

AP English Language and Composition

To Whom It May Concern:

Thank you for your interest in AP English Language and Composition. This class is offered to students who are in their junior year of high school. It is one of the oldest and most important AP classes offered because it is the best preparation for writing at the college level. Whether you want to be a doctor, a lawyer, a teacher or a system analyst, it is essential that you read and write at a high level. Therefore, this class attempts to teach you the strategies that you will need to be successful in your future endeavors.

There is a lot of homework for this class, you are constantly reading, analyzing, writing and presenting what you have learned in studying the work of outstanding writers. The focus is on non-fiction, but we will also read at least one novel (The Great Gatsby or The Scarlet Letter). And it is essential that you prepare for class and develop good working habits because the class works best when everyone is dedicated and prepared to participate.

If you are still reading this and you are still seriously considering signing up for this class, the best preparation for it would be to start reading more books and articles. You have to place value in reading in order to do well.

Sincerely,

Mr. Nordensedt and Mr. Reckard
