The screenshot shows the 'My College QuickStart' interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs for 'Knowledge', 'Skills', 'Behavior', and 'Awareness'. The main heading is 'My College QuickStart'. Below this, there's a section titled 'My AP Potential' with two bullet points: 'Choose a major to see which courses match it.' and 'Interpret your report to see whether you are ready to take a course.' The main content area features a dropdown menu labeled 'Please Select A Major'. Below the dropdown is a table with four columns: 'AP Courses', 'Potential', 'Matches Major', and 'Your School Offered This Course'. The table lists five courses: Psychology, Art History, Calculus BC, English Language, and European History. Each course has a 'Potential' score represented by a grid of red squares. The 'Matches Major' column has a checkmark for each course, and the 'Your School Offered This Course' column also has a checkmark for each course. To the right of the table, there's a section titled 'Interpret your report' with three sub-sections: 'Potential', 'Some Potential', and 'Potential Not Yet Indicated'. Each sub-section provides a brief explanation of the score and a link to 'more...'. At the bottom right, there's a button labeled 'What is AP?'. In the top right corner, there's a user profile section for 'Ima Student' with the email 'pujamshr00@gmail.com' and links for 'Update My Info' and 'Sign Out'.

- ▶ Look at some of the material you'll be learning:

The screenshot shows the Khan Academy website interface for AP Statistics. The browser address bar displays the URL <https://www.khanacademy.org/math/ap-statistics?t=practice>. The page header includes the Khan Academy logo and the user name "Chris Leong". The main navigation bar shows "MATH" and "AP Statistics" with a sub-header "The official practice partner for AP®" and logos for CollegeBoard and AP. Below the navigation, there are tabs for "Explore" and "Practice". The "Practice" tab is active, showing a progress bar for "Continue practicing" with the text "Up next: Identifying marginal and conditional distributions" and a "Continue" button. A progress indicator shows "26 / 87 exercises complete". The "CONTENTS" section lists three topics: "Analyzing categorical data" (with a bar chart icon), "Displaying and comparing quantitative data", and "Summarizing quantitative data" (with a star icon and "75%"). The "Analyzing categorical data" item is highlighted with a "Continue" button and the text "Up next: Identifying marginal and conditional distributions". The "Summarizing quantitative data" item has a "Go for 100%" button.
